

ASKQ: MobArt Gallery and The Drawing Room, Hong Kong

A gallery with a twist, MobArt isn't a physical space. Instead, it's a mobile concept, hosting art shows in urban spaces. Their new exhibition, Transcendence, will be hosted at The Drawing Room, the new gastronomic sensation by Chef Roland Schuller and Chef Tony Cheng at 1/F, JIA Boutique Hotel, 1-5 Irving Street, Causeway Bay.

Transcendence is a group exhibition featuring three Hong Kong-based female artists – Cornella Erdmann, Sarah Koljonen and Man Fung-Yi – each exploring the notion of rising above the limits of nature and human experience. The perfect venue for such a show (which is exhibiting until late September), The Drawing Room transcends the ordinary with exceptional cuisine that will not fail to surprise and satisfy.

Quintessentially members have a unique opportunity to experience an art appreciation dinner every Wednesday or Thursday at The Drawing Room, from Wednesday 10th June for four weeks. A select number of tables will be reserved for Quintessentially members until 2pm on the day before the booking, and members will also enjoy an exclusive 10% discount on dining. MobArt will provide members with private tours of the exhibition before or after dinner, and will offer preferential prices to Quintessentially members who wish to purchase any pieces on show.

To find out more or to make a booking, please contact askqhk@quintessentially.com.